

Immodesty - the Beginnings of Greater Evil

To be truly pro-life means to be modest and pure. If pondered over carefully, this statement becomes a self-evident fact. What is it that brought abortion about or has caused countless millions of innocent children throughout the world to be slain if not the sin of impurity? What is it that has caused so many to fall so far as to deem abortion or birth control to be vital for them to live what is considered a normal life? "I have a right to live my life" – is this not the pseudo justification that so many use to excuse this heinous crime against God and humanity? But it is clear that an individual does not generally begin off by being willing to commit such an action; they must first fall quite a way to reach the point where murder, for that is what abortion truly is, to be considered a viable option. Nevertheless, many do. Even so, there are many others that prohibit life through birth control. They too know that they are impeding the development of human life or destroying it at its very beginning. But they too pay no heed.

Why then do they not pay heed? The reason is quite simple. They are ashamed of what they have done and don't want others to know of it or else they don't want to be inconvenienced by the existence of new life. Either way it is a flight from responsibility, a flight which began with ignoring that which is written on every human soul. But as with abortion, this vice too must have a beginning – and this beginning is immodesty. Immodesty attacks the weakness of an already frail human nature. It stirs up and inflames the passions of a fallen race. This is the beginning of the path to abortion. It is here that the crime begins, it is here that the ever-downward spiral begins its course. God's grace, it is true, may be ever present, but to place ourselves in the way of this temptation, to do so to the souls of others is foolishness indeed. It is like unto one thrusting their hand into the fire expecting it to remain unscathed. And people wonder why there is such a plethora of birth control and abortion in our day! Is not the answer to this all around us? Is it not to be seen in the fashions encouraged today? Every immodest fashion takes its toll in the spiritual lives of those who fall for its evil spell. Having fallen for the vice of immodesty, it is only a matter of time before most humans fall still farther.

This fact is the reason that immodesty is the ultimate nemesis of what is truly pro-life. It is for this reason that immodesty must be combated as much as even are its results for it is the seed which leads to the most evil fruit of abortion. Thus, it is certainly true that to be in actual deed pro-life one must first be modest and pure.
